Trump Leads Biden In All 7 Swing States

Geoffrey A. Fields

Republican Donald Trump leads President Joe Biden in all 7 battleground states in the 2024 U.S Presidential election according to averages from Real Clear Politics. The former President also maintains a steady lead in the RCP electoral map. This comes as the Biden White House grows increasingly worried about lagging poll numbers and Third Party Challenger, Independent, RFK Jr. Trump's lead increases over Biden in 3-way and 5-way contests.

Swing States: Arizona, Georgia, Michigan, Nevada, North Carolina, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin

Editor's Note: This is a developing story. Averages of ALL polls are far more accurate than 1 random poll that samples 800 people. You see influencers post "New poll from -insert source-", that is clickbait to support one's narrative. Currently, the majority of all polls show Trump poised to retake the White House which means Democrats are sweating! It turns out endless wars, crime, open borders and Bidenomics isn't a winning message, combined with the woke-DEI, transgender looney tunes being pushed down our throats - Democrats are in a world of trouble if current trends continue. 64.4% of the Country says we are headed down the wrong track under Joe Biden and MAGA still has 6 months to push his numbers even lower.
