

Mainstream Media Is The Enemy Of The People

By: Geoffrey Fields

- The US ranks last among 46 countries in trust in media. There are plenty examples for this being the case
- This article is was written with the help of ChatGPT, an experiment by TTA NEWS
- All information was fed in and generated was selected by the Author, limited adjustments or additions

The term “mainstream media” refers to the largest and most influential news outlets in the world, such as CNN, MSNBC, Fox News, The New York Times, and The Washington Post. These media outlets play a critical role in shaping public opinion by disseminating information to a vast audience. However, many people believe that mainstream media has been corrupted by government influence, corporate interests, and political agendas. In this paper, I will argue that mainstream media is the enemy of the people because of the following reasons: Government control of outlets, concerns skeptics mentioned during the COVID pandemic that turned out to be true, the media is used by the government and Biden's White House to cover up crimes exposed in the laptop, the media played a key role in downplaying Hunter Biden's laptop, and the importance of Elon Musk purchasing Twitter.

Government Control of Outlets

One of the biggest concerns with mainstream media is government control of news outlets. In many countries, the government has a direct role in shaping the news and controlling what information is released to the public. In the United States, the government does not have direct control over the news media, but many argue that the government still exerts significant influence over the media.

For example, The Twitter Files expose Government at the highest level colluding with Twitter Personel to censor information, even going as far as allowing the Government to create fake doctors to elevate COVID WHO guidelines while banning real doctors who raised questions and counter studies. The FBI also held weekly meetings with Twitter to discuss removing certain accounts and creating dashboards that labeled normal Americans as Russian or foreign. These meetings led to the banning of anyone sharing the Hunter Biden laptop story from the NYPost.

Concerns Skeptics Mentioned During the COVID Pandemic That Turned Out to be True

Another example of mainstream media's failure to fulfill its role as a watchdog is the COVID pandemic. Skeptics, Doctors, Physicians and Experts raised many concerns about the government's response to the pandemic, such as the effectiveness of lockdowns and the accuracy of COVID death statistics and vaccines. Many of these concerns were dismissed by the media as conspiracy theories, but now these concerns turned out to be true.

For example, Natural immunity is better than vaccination and studies have shown that lockdowns had minimal impact on COVID transmission rates and were not effective in controlling the spread of the virus. Additionally, there have been numerous reports of inaccurate COVID death statistics, with deaths being attributed to COVID even when the cause of death was unrelated. Vaccine efficacy drops to near 0% after 7 months which is why boosters are needed and we now know the plethora of adverse events one may be susceptible to if vaccinated. In these cases, the media failed to provide accurate and unbiased reporting, instead choosing to parrot the government's official narrative.

The Media is Used by the Government and Biden's White House to Cover Up Crimes Exposed in the Laptop

Another example of mainstream media's failure to act as a watchdog is the scandal involving Hunter Biden's laptop. The laptop contains incriminating evidence about Hunter Biden's business dealings and his father, President Biden's involvement in those dealings. However, mainstream media outlets, including The New York Times and CNN, refuse to meaningfully cover the story, to this day.

In addition to refusing to cover the story, mainstream media outlets also downplayed the significance of the laptop. Many journalists and pundits claimed that the laptop was a non-story and that there was no evidence of wrongdoing. However, subsequent investigations have shown that the laptop contains significant evidence of criminal activity.

The media downplayed the story and even pushed a concocted false security letter labeling the laptop as Russian disinformation, which allowed the Biden campaign to avoid answering difficult questions about their involvement— influencing the outcome of the 2020 presidential election. It's very clear, the media failed to provide accurate and unbiased reporting.

Social Media and MSM Cover Up Government Crimes

One of the reasons why mainstream media is viewed as the enemy of the people is its tendency to cover up government crimes. This was evident in the recent Twitter files, which exposed a vast amount of government misconduct, illegal activity and breaches of the First Amendment. Despite the significance of these files, the mainstream media, again, has largely ignored them allowing those responsible for the crimes to continue to operate with impunity. The Twitter files underscore the importance of independent media and the need to hold those in power accountable for their actions.

The recent acquisition of Twitter by Elon Musk provides a glimmer of hope for those who value free speech and independent media. Musk has the power to shape the future of social media and ensure that it remains a platform for free expression. By promoting independent citizen media and free speech, Musk has the opportunity to create a more democratic and transparent media landscape. This is critical in a world where the media is increasingly polarized and controlled by a few powerful interests.

In conclusion, the mainstream media has become the enemy of the people because it has failed to fulfill its role as a watchdog and instead acted as a tool for the government to control information and persecute political opponents and dissenting voices.