Story) Big Pharma has gained hundreds of billions as a result of years long covid mandates. Have they not witnessed enough suffering? Of course not! What they are doing to our country is terrible. It's illegal! These companies colluded with China and the Democratic Party to profit bigly. As Americans suffered, and people around the world suffered, The elites made billions and rigged elections, they play with the collective mind.

Pfizer and other vaccine companies made their money illegally. It wasn't through the free market, or the normal ways of capitalism. They used government to force people to take their product, forcing countries out of fear to strike major deals in hopes of a return to normalcy. All profits should be seized, and investigations should be launched immediately.

They shut down college campuses and mandated the vaccine, same with businesses. The mega-rich controlled by lobbyists, control local leaders, who pushed radical policy that made them rich. Anyone who spoke out was silenced. Any doctor not named Dr. Fauci, was censored. Everything done was unnecessary, and unconstitutional. They pushed fear non-stop, leading the masses to believe the shot was effective, as it turns out natural immunity is better. Protection from the vaccine drops 90% after 6 months. Taking the vaccine only opens the individual up the possibility of a wide swath of adverse effects.

We can never forget what happened and we must hold them accountable. The way coronavirus was used to change election laws and take away people's rights and jobs was a travesty, and the results are clear. Mandates and lockdowns didn't work, Masks didn't work and the only that was accomplished was crime spikes, a decimated economy and a changed America for the worse. It's time to vote every single person out of office who went along with the covid charade and these radical policies.

"Dr. Naomi Wolf has teamed with health experts and attorneys to mobilize researchers to pore through the thousands of documents on the Pfizer vaccine trials that the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) was forced to release through a lawsuit. On Monday, she summarized the chief findings while being interviewed on Steve Bannon's "War Room".

Naomi Wolf: "It looks to me – this is not an overstatement from what I've seen – that this was a clinical trial that by August 2021, Pfizer and the FDA knew was failed, the vaccines were not safe and effective. That they weren't working. That the efficacy was waning ... and that they were seriously dangerous," Wolf said. "And they rolled it out anyway. There's a great deal surfacing. We need 161 lawyers because the crimes are of such an extraordinary scale as we're starting to see what was really done to the American people and to people around the world."

"America's Frontline Doctors (AFLDS) Chief Science Officer Dr. Michael Yeadon yesterday said there is "clear evidence of fraud" in the Pfizer study that purports to claim 95% efficacy in their COVID-19 "vaccine".

Yeadon was commenting on an article appearing in The Lancet and critiquing a documentary that scrutinized a Pfizer efficacy study, calling the distinction raised therein between relative risk reduction and absolute risk reduction "accurate".

The Lancet article, entitled COVID-19 vaccine efficacy and effectiveness—the elephant (not) in the room, says that although attention has focused on vaccine efficacy and comparing the reduction of the number of symptomatic cases, "fully understanding the efficacy and effectiveness of vaccines is less straightforward than it might seem. Depending on how the effect size is expressed, a quite different picture might emerge."

The article continues: "Vaccine efficacy is generally reported as a relative risk reduction (RRR). It uses the relative risk (RR)—ie, the ratio of attack rates with and without a vaccine—which is expressed as $1 - RR$. Ranking by reported efficacy gives relative risk reductions of 95% for the Pfizer–BioNTech, 94% for the Moderna–NIH, 91% for the Gamaleya, 67% for the J&J, and 67% for the AstraZeneca–Oxford vaccines.

“However, RRR should be seen against the background risk of being infected and becoming ill with COVID-19, which varies between populations and over time. Although the RRR considers only participants who could benefit from the vaccine, the absolute risk reduction (ARR), which is the difference between attack rates with and without a vaccine, considers the whole population. ARRs tend to be ignored because they give a much less impressive effect size than RRRs: 1.3% for the AstraZeneca–Oxford, 1.2% for the Moderna–NIH, 1.2% for the J&J, 0.93% for the Gamaleya, and 0.84% for the Pfizer–BioNTech vaccines.”

“Pfizer reported that its vaccine showed a 95% efficacy,” explained the documentary, entitled COVID Shot or Not? “That sounds like it protects you 95% of the time. But that’s not actually what that number means.

“That 95% refers to the ‘relative risk reduction’ (RRR), but it doesn’t tell you how much your overall risk is reduced by vaccination. For that, we need ‘absolute risk reduction’ (ARR).

“In the Pfizer trial, 8 out of 18,198 people who were given the vaccine developed COVID-19. In the unvaccinated placebo group, 162 people out of 18,325 got it, which means that even without the vaccine, the risk of contracting COVID-19 was extremely low, at 0.88%, which the vaccine then reduced to 0.04%.

“So the net benefit, the absolute risk reduction, that you are being offered in the Pfizer vaccine is 0.84%

“That 95% number? That refers to the relative difference between the 0.88% and 0.04%. That’s what they call ‘95% relative risk reduction’. And relative risk reduction is well-known to be a misleading number, which is why the FDA recommends using absolute risk reduction instead. Which begs the question: How many people would have chosen to take the COVID-19 vaccines, had they understood that they offered less than 1% benefit?”

In response, Dr. Yeadon said: “It’s worse, actually. In the Pfizer study from which the 95% claim comes, there’s clear evidence of fraud.

The potential dangers of mass vaccination campaigns have often been ignored. Government leaders and health officials also say nothing about the real dangers that are inherent in the drug companies that are profiting from the vaccination campaigns.

Pfizer, which provides a significant bulk of the Wuhan coronavirus (COVID-19) vaccine for Americans, has been known for its corrupt and wrong practices – with a laundry list of fraud, negligence and other criminal acts to its name.

Just over a decade ago, Pfizer paid a hefty $2.3 billion fine after pleading guilty to illegally promoting the drugs Geodon, Zyvox, Bextra and Lyrica by way of physician kickbacks and fraudulent claims. I was one of the largest healthcare fraud settlements in history.

With Pfizer’s potential for bias and conflicts of interest, it has come to people’s attention that true informed consent requires transparency of the research and development involved in vaccine manufacturing.

Perhaps the lack of transparency is why many have been skeptical about the COVID-19 vaccines for individuals as early as age five. If one considers Pfizer’s long history of fraud and criminal acts, the issue of transparency becomes much more relevant.
