POLLS SHOW TRUMP POISED TO RETAKE THE WHITE HOUSE, +41 ON DESANTIS— +7 ON BIDEN

GEOFFREY A. FIELDS, TTA PRESIDENT

2024 REPUBLICAN PRIMARY POLL

The recent polls that have been released from ABC/WAPO have garnered significant attention due to their implications for the 2024 presidential election. polls show that former President Donald Trump leads the incumbent President Joe Biden by a margin of 7 points, 47-40 in a hypothetical general election poll. Trump also leads Florida Governor Ron DeSantis, 2024 shadow candidate, by a significant margin of 41 points, 60-19.

Trump posted on Truth Social twice this morning: “DeSanctimonious put off his announcement until June because his numbers are sooo BAD. He also got rid of his ridiculous “Exploratory Committee” because he didn’t like what they were telling him. MAGA!!!”

“Once people started learning about Ron DeSanctimonious, his Poll Numbers and popularity started to disintegrate at a level and speed rarely seen before in American Politics. Just an Average Governor (look at the stats!) with great P.R. Probably lost MAGA forever!”

The polls also show that Biden's approval ratings have declined amid constant scandal with many Americans focusing on crimes revealed in the Hunter Biden Laptop and new evidence of election interference concocted by the Biden team and the intelligence community to suppress that information and craft talking points for Biden during the 2020 Presidential debate. Americans are also expressing dissatisfaction with his handling of nearly all key issues such as: immigration, national security, foreign policy and the economy.
